

Price Menu

I understand that getting married can be an expensive business and in light of this I am keen to offer a fair pricing structure without compromising on the quality of images that every bride and groom deserve for their big day. Rather than offering a selection of expensive package style options, I have split each of my services down with separate costs in a menu style – that way you can pick and choose what you would like and feel you can afford. This also gives you the option of viewing the images taken before deciding if you would like to have some larger pictures printed or a bound book made.

With each couple I will arrange a meeting (or call if it is easier for you) to discuss any special requests you have and the details of your wedding day. With all shoots I will edit and use a small amount of image editing techniques to provide the best selection of final images.

Engagement Shoot

£200

I will meet you and your partner for a 1 ½ hour shoot prior to the big day at a location of your choice, maybe a favourite spot for a picnic or the place where you got engaged. Afterwards you will receive the images on a DVD disk of a resolution that is suitable for standard 6 x 4" prints.

Wedding Shoot – Half Day

£800

I have included this option as some couples prefer me to be present only at certain times of the day. During the half-day shoot I can cover any period of roughly 4 hours, for example; arriving at the church, after the service and the reception welcome. After the wedding you will receive the images on a DVD disk of a resolution that is suitable for standard 6 x 4" prints. The images will also be displayed in your own password protected online gallery for you and your guests to view and order prints from if required.

Wedding Shoot – Full Day

£1150

A full day shoot provides unlimited coverage and can include shots of the bride or groom getting ready first thing in the morning right up until just after the first dance. After the wedding you will receive the images on a DVD disk of a resolution that is suitable for standard 6 x 4" prints. The images will also be displayed in your own password protected online gallery for you and your guests to view and order prints from if required.

Once you have viewed your finished images you can decide how you would like to have them printed and displayed. If however you know you would like one or more of the below and I receive your order prior to the wedding you will receive a 10% discount.

Bound Books

The layout of all books will be beautifully designed by myself and professionally made and bound by a trusted British based supplier of the highest quality.
